

EBSCO Business Source Elite Case Studies

To look for case studies enter a term or terms in the search box and the phrase SU case studies. In the example below, we are looking for articles with leadership in the title (TI leadership) and also articles with case studies as a subject term (SU case studies)

You can limit your search to a specific publication such as the Harvard Business Review, which publishes a number of case studies. Enter the magazine or journal title in the Publication search box.

The screenshot shows the EBSCO Business Source Elite search interface. The search box contains the text "TI leadership and SU case studies". A callout box points to the search box with the text: "Enter search terms- For case studies enter case studies preceded by SU". Below the search box, the "Search Options" section is visible. A callout box points to the "Find all my search terms" radio button with the text: "Select full text". The "Limit your results" section is also visible. A callout box points to the "Full Text" checkbox, which is checked, with the text: "Select full text". Another callout box points to the "Published Date from" dropdown menu, which is set to "January" and "2010", and the "to" dropdown menu, which is set to "June" and "2011", with the text: "Enter a date range". A third callout box points to the "Publication" text box, which is empty, with the text: "You can limit your search results to a publication such as the Harvard Business Review".

Two-Letter Codes to Help Limit Results

TI Title

Example: TI total quality management Search for articles with total quality management in the title.

SU Subject

Example: SU internet security Search for articles with Internet security as a subject.

CO Company

Example: CO Microsoft corporation Search for articles about the company Microsoft Corp